Our Conference

Please consider joining us for Southwest Bible Camp's Labor Day Conference. You are invited to join us during this wonderful weekend of ministry in the Word of God! The conference will include Bible teaching from Ken Miller with plenty of optional free time with activities for the whole family!

Our Special Guests

Ken and Marti Miller live in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Ken has been active as a Bible teacher and camp speaker for many years and is no stranger to Southwest Bible Camp. We are looking forward to this special weekend with Ken and Marti!

Ken plans, Lord willing, to speak on the topic, "Work and its Rest" and we'll look at several aspects of this in relation to redemption, salvation, Sanctification and others.

You are invited to attend this incredible weekend designed for the whole family! Please go to www.southwestbiblecamp.com for up-to-date information, schedule and registration forms.

Southwest Bible Camp

Located just west of the nearby, Gila Wilderness, Southwest Bible Camp in Glenwood, NM has a full summer camp program as well as retreats and conferences. The Labor Day Conference has been a tremendous encouragement to many for nearly six decades! Make plans now to attend the 2018 Labor Day Conference.

Housing

Housing, especially for families is very limited and will be assigned on a first come, first serve basis. A fair amount of full RV hookups are available on the campgrounds as well as space for tents. Please advise us if you wish to reserve one of these spaces. Motel space in Glenwood is very limited. If you do not wish to stay at the camp facilities, you will need to make your own motel arrangements.

To Register

Register early! Absolute deadline for registering is August 27. Once the camp capacity has been filled, registration will be closed and all subsequent registrations will be returned. Register as soon as possible to avoid a full camp. All registrations will be acknowledged by mail or by email.
